

Promote Adult Dating Sites and Earn a Five Figure Monthly Income

This is my method which I use to promote a few adult dating sites and earn good money from them every month, and it doesn't involve SEO, PPC, Adwords or any other kind of paid advertising or has anything to do with the search engines.

I'm writing this myself so sorry for the way its written and for any grammar mistakes, I am not a copy writer and I am not going to pay someone to do it for me either.

OK lets get straight down to this method, with the things you will need.

First of all you will need to have some knowledge on building websites/blogs, so you will require a hosting account and you will need to purchase domains for this method to work.

I'm not going to go into details on how to build a website/blog here, you will find many free training videos on youtube on how to do this. But I do recommend using wordpress blogs as they are quick and easy to set up.

Now you will need to join a few adult dating sites affiliate programs, see the list of resources at the end of this guide, the ones I recommend are the highest paying affiliate programs with the best conversion rates.

Next you will need to join a few web cam modeling sites, again I have listed the main one at the end of this guide.

These are the only things you will need to get started with this method, but to earn money from it, you will need to put in the time and effort to make it work.

I have eight website's built around this method, and I'm building more every month and combined they all earn me a five figure monthly salary.

I've also been doing this for less than a year, so the first website you set up can start earning you daily sales as soon as it goes live, and considering one conversion could be as high as $120 you could start seeing a tidy income coming in straight away.

The reason the conversions are great with this method is the fact that they are highly targeted.

I think this is a totally unique idea, as I have not seen anybody else doing it, so it would be a prime time to get into this before it gets saturated, and if you are in at the beginning like me, it won't matter how many people start copying it later because you will all ready have your sites built and earning good money from them, although I would say this method would take many years to become saturated due to the huge popularity of web cam modeling sites.

How to Put This Into Practice

Ok onto the method itself, lets assume you know how to build a website/blog and you have signed up to a couple of adult dating sites affiliate networks, your next step would be to sign up to one or two web cam modeling sites.

You will have to become a paid member of one of these sites in order to talk to potential clients, free members usually don't get the option to be able to send emails to the models.

Once you are a paid member, go through the site and find the girls who have a high number of daily visitors, this can be in the thousands, a good sign would be any girl with over 100 visitors at any one time. With a bit of research this becomes second nature.

once you have found a few, start sending them messages asking if they would like a website built for them.

Explain that they can put items for sale on this website, such as photo sets and videos, and tell them the site will get a large amount of traffic from the search engines. But dont worry this will happen naturally.

Which in return will promote them on which ever web cam agency they are with, increasing there traffic and earnings, plus explain to them how they will make allot of money through selling there items on the site to there customers, this can be easily done by adding a contact form for there customers to fill out with a paypal option to buy.

Tell them the only thing you want in return is to place a few banner ads on the site, and for them to paste the website url on there profile page and video cam, so all there customers can see it

Now if there customers ask if they belong to the adult dating site listed on there website, ask the model to say yes they do belong to it, this tremendously helps with conversions.

If you ask ten girls you would probably get three or four agreeing to do this, you then get all the information and images from your clients that you will need to build the website.

I can build one of these sites in a matter of hours, but there is no rush, you can take your time to get it right, even if you build one website a week, once its been promoted on the models video cam you will start seeing sales straight away.

When you build your website I highly recommend using wordpress, but for the more advanced webmasters the choice is obviously down to what your comfortable with.

On a wordpress blog theme you have one or two sidebars, these are ideal places to put your banner ads in, you can also use free themes such as flexibility theme which has a footer bar and two side bars and other places which you can customize to place your ads.

As for the sites name, well all web cam models have a nickname/username which would be perfect to match the domain up with, if you can't get an exact match just add numbers at the end such as sexycindy123.com, and no that website does not exist, you dont think I'm giving away my sites do you.

You dont need to go for a .com domain, a .info will do just as well and they are very cheap, as you are not trying to rank this site, although it will rank high eventually due to the amount of traffic it will get through the customers on your clients web cam site.

Make sure to explain to your clients that having a website built for them will cost them nothing, but will be very profitable for them, and explain that you will make money from the people who click on one of the banners that you place on the site.

They don't need to know how your making money from the site, so just let them think its like adwords. You might get a couple of savvy models who understand what your doing, in this case, tell them you will split the difference fifty fifty or what ever you seem fair.

Tell them that it is a win win situation for both you and them, and they have nothing to lose, and everything to gain.

Well thats about all there is to it, but carry on reading to see my recommendations for which sites to use.

If you need somewhere to buy a domain name, then I recommend Godaddy as they are one of the cheapest around, but I don't recommend them for your hosting account, as I have had hosting with them before, and I found my sites loaded very slowly, which the search engines do not like.

If you need a hosting account I highly recommend Hostgator, I use Hostgator for allot of my sites, and the load times are quick and there customer service is second to none, you can also buy your domain names here, if you dont want to mess around changing name servers.

To join adult dating sites affiliate programs I recommend the four listed below, these are the top paying adult dating affiliate programs in this niche, and also they are the best converting sites I've come across, and I've tried most of them at some point or another.

For My No 1 Adult Dating Site Please Click Here Once you have clicked this link scroll down to the bottom of the video, and just below the video on the right hand side you will see a link saying affiliate, click this link and sign up for there program.

For My No 2 Adult Dating Site Please Click Here Once you have clicked this link scroll down to the bottom of the page and on the left hand side look for the link saying Webmasters Earn Money, click on this link and sign up to join there program.

For My No 3 Adult Dating Site Please Click Here This site pays very well, but the conversions are not as high as the two above, although saying that, it is still worth giving this one a go because you only need a few sales a week to make good money.

For My No 4 Adult Dating Site Please Click Here Again this site pays very well but as the same as the one above the conversions are a bit lower, and also its aimed at the UK market, I personally make one sale a day using this site, which for me is a great little consistent earner. Its well worth adding this one to your sites for the UK market.

Now for the webcam modeling websites for you to join, well this is where your going to have to do a bit of research, as not all of them will let the models place website urls on there video cams.

But there are quite a few that do, you just have to look around, but the main one I use for almost all of my sites, is the only one you will really need. This site really looks after there models and allows them to do allot more than most webcam modelling sites.

The site itself has thousands and thousands of webcam models, all eager to earn as much money as possible, I should know its my greatest earner. I suggest you visit this site at three hourly intervals, due to the amount of webcam models they have, this way you will find countless models with high customer numbers to send a private message to.

Well thats it folks, its now down to you to make this work, but it won't happen if you don't put time and effort into this.

I make good money every month through this method, but I also have websites online aimed at the same niche doing well through the search engines, so dont think this will only make you money from doing it this way.

you will start to see your websites climb in the search engines quite quickly with just the amount of customers sent via your clients webcam modelling site.

And plus the user name/nickname of your model will usually go to the number one position in google straight away because of the lack of competition, but bear in mind that won't bring you tons of free traffic, because nobody will be looking for it at first.

But once your model and her customers has tweeted and facebooked and every other kind of social activity you can think of, your site will start seeing fantastic organic traffic, it did with mine, so I'm sure it will with yours.

All in all this is a great opportunity, take it while you can, and good luck with it.

I wish you all great success with this method, and if it works as I know it should for you, please leave me good feedback from where ever you found this guide.

I hope you don't mind but here's a little promotion for one of my sites that is not used for this method.

Im hoping that if you like this method and it works for you like I know it has worked for me, that you might share this link below on your websites, as I have laid out my whole money making strategy for this method here for free.

Obviously I have added my affiliate links aswell, but again the information your getting here is quite unique and can make you allot of money, so all I ask is you join the sites through my links, which won't cost you anything, and add the below link to your websites

Thank you all for getting this far, as I know my grammor and writing skills are not up to much.

And I truly wish you all the best.

Cheers
